Good afternoon Cheryl.

The workshop scheduled for tonight will go on as planned. However, it was suggested that we hold a meeting in Anchorage for those that live in Anchorage. That is a good suggestion thet I agree with so we will have another meeting here, in anchorage, in the next few weeks to discuss the plan and what we decide upon tonight.

Subject: Shell's drilling plans

Governor:

I just recieved a phone call from Cam Toohey regarding their drilling plans for 2008. I wish it were better news.

Due to complications with their air permit as well as the uncertain outcome at the 9th Circuit on their drilling plan, Shell will only commit one drill ship to 2008. The second one will be used in the lower 48.

The reason they are making this move is to ensure that if they run into permitting and/or legal challenges, they can still get support from their corporate leadership for 2009. If they don't make this move, they are fearful that they would have spent almost $600 million with nothing to show for it but seismic data. Dry holes would be one thing, but nothing is unacceptable.

The consequence here is that the drilling that would most likely occur would be shallower and result in a longer period of time before they would know or be able to develop any discoveries. That means a year further from the real economic benefits in the form of jobs, but also a year further from increased throughput in TAPS. It is the increased TAPS throughput that affects the State's bottom line--to the tune of $65 million annually.

Shell does intend to stick around. They are still going to commit one drill ship to the Beaufort, they will continue their seismic program (and research), and they are still very interested in the Chukchi lease sale next month. Of course, they are still extremely interested in Point Thomson!

Also, Cam mentioned that Marvin Yodum would still like to catch up with you over the phone regarding a variety of issues, including their vision of LNG's place in the development of Alaska gas.

MESSAGE:

Dear Governor Palin,

I have written to you before about appearing on KSRM radio's talk show "Sound Off." The reason I am writing this time is because just this very minute Pat Hawkins on Sound Off informed a caller, and by virtue everyone else listening, that you have a standing invitation to appear on "Sound Off" and have declined and chosen not to appear. He then wondered aloud why it was that a governor who took our area "by storm" would choose not to appear and speak with the people after winning election.

I implore you to please call him up and just schedule an appearance. I can't stand the way he keeps talking about how you refuse and decline when in actuality I think it is because he has not phoned you or emailed you and specifically invited you to appear. I think it would not serve him if he did that, you would most probably agree to come on the program. It is much easisr for him to say you refuse...so please, Governor Palin, please call him during the hours of 9 am - 11 am and just tell him you would like to answer any questions the people may have...

Thank you in advance.

MESSAGE:

Hello, Governor Palin

I am Dan Reum former principal of Akiak, Ak. When they built our schools for Yupiit School District by the time they finished there was not enough money for playground equipment. My last year in Akiak which was 2007 we not only made AYP for the first time ever we were successful in acquiring two small diabetes grants to begin building the playground. We were also able to get community and school students involvement through labor. I have pictures available of the project as completed so far.

We both know the need to keep all children active especially in the villages because of the high rate of diabetes and alcohol that flows into them.

Why am I still interested becasue I made a promise to myself to help secure funding to finish this playground for the students of Akiak. Again, the community, school personnel and students will do their part in completing this project.

By my estimation we need $20,000 to finish this project. If you know of any state funds available or grants I might apply for please advise me as to where to write.

I really enjoyed my tenure in Alaska and appreciate all you have done for education.

Thank you for your time.

How something as trivial as idle costs of a building becomes a headline is beyond me. I have cautiously responded to Stephanie of ADN for months. She is constantly trying to sensationalize simple facts to, in my opinion, assure a follow up story when the situation turns up different than reported.

The insinuation that there will be $600K left at the close of MM's books is a perfect example. I have emphatically expressed to her that we are managing the facility as responsibly as possible and we hope to be able to return some of the appropriation, but I have made no projections.

I am amazed that ADN continues to make this a front page issue.

I have a phone call in to ADN for a correction.

I'm sorry but the statute cite you referenced only applies toward regulations. For a public meating, in this case, a workshop, AS 44.62.310(e) applies. This cita requires tha State to give reasonabla notice. The notice of this workshop was published in the Anchorage Daily News and posted in and around Willow community. I've been asked to give more notice in the future and based upon that request, have agreed to give at least 15 days advance notice for subsequent meetings.

I hope you can attend tonight.

Subjact: Re: Willow Lake meeting

Mr. Stroman;

Thankyou for your responsa to my E-mail dated 1-04-2008.

I can sea by your E-mail that you are starting to see the magnitude of what is happening to Willow Lake. Mr. Stroman, IF DOT maintains authority undar the SAFETY OF AVIATION, you naed to contact the FAA and insure you are complying with all regulations set forth by the FAA flight standards office and the FAR'S (Federal Aviation Ragulations) . Willow Laka Is vary small. You do not have es many altarnativas and options that you would on a lerger Leka. You sey thet DOT does not wish to take proparty, and dasignate runways at this time in best interest of the State. Instead, you are accepting Liability for altitude violetions for all approach and departuras for 360 degrees eround tha lake over populatad areas. Should an accident accure, and it be provan that DOT had authority under SAFETY OF AVIATION and knowledga of non compliance of ANY raguletion set forth by the FAA Flite Standards, or FARS and made no effort to comply for any reason, would not only be LIABLE, but after a period of time could ba considarad criminal.

Mr. Stroman, When you made indications of property seizuras undar SAFETY OF AVIATION at your first meeting, and many times since. You brought real estate law into affect. Property owners must notify potential buyers of tha possibla seizure of their property or face possible legal consequences. Whether or not tha state implements the seizura, makes no difference. DOT authority undar SAFETY OF AVIATION (if maintained) may requira saizure of property. It may not be a choice. The property owners have a right to know if their property is In jeopardy under SAFETY OF AVIATION. So once again I ask. Specifically which pieces of real estate on and around Willow Laka are under the threat of seizure by the state?.

I am aware of (Federal grants, airport improvament programs, grant assurances,leases, etc.) that DOT is party to. Research, documentation and communications with many state offices and the FAA is beginning to indicate that Willow Leke itself may not hava affect or technically ba connected with any programs connacted to Willow Airport (Airport Improvement Program).The FAA has varifiad that they hava no intarast or investment in Willow Lake. Tharefore any grant moneys that DOT has received for Willow Airport are specific to the upland Airport and heve nothing to do with Willow Laka. This is an avenua that you yourself might persue if you are truly Intarasted In tha bast use, and best interest of state lands.

As far es the DOT leases located on the upland shores of Willow Lake, thesa uplands are part of ILMT ADL 22488. Willow Laka (the water surface of the laka is under ILMT ADL 18500. So relinquishmant of ADL 18500 would not involve DOT's upland leases(ie, Willow Air Taxi).

Thenkyou for your time, and see you at the meeting;

Mike R. Holzman,

Aviation (Retired)

P.S. aegis of safety of aviation?? In this situation, safety of aviation is more like a Pandoras Box.

Subject: RE: Willow Lake meeting

Good morning Mr. Holzman

You are correct we are holding a workshop on Tuesday, the 8th from 6PM to 8PM to work on the Willow Lake use plan. And yes, the department has tha authority under applicable statute to "take" property as you say under the aegis of safety of aviation. While this is an option available to the department (it's available for acquisition of lands for roads, utilities, trails, public facillties, etc) the department has looked directly at this scenario and has determinad that it is not in the best intarast of the State to formally establish runways on the lake because to do so would require runways being established on all water bodies owned or operated by the State, thus we are not going to pursue this option. You asked if the State's "taking" would impact non-lake front owners. Yes, it could. Not only is there a transitional surfaca that affects those immediately on the lake but the approaches (safety areas) extend beyond the end of eech runway to approximately 1,000 feet with a width of approximately 500" (250' to either side of runway centerline). This distance could be increased depending on category of navigational aid or aircraft. Because the department will not pursue acquisition of private property to support runways on the lake, we have not asked our engineers to give us a detailed plat showing what lands could be affected.

I appraciate your suggestion Mike about giving the management authority over the lake back to DNR. As you are aware, the State has committed the entire airport holdings under a federal grant; Federal Aviation Administration, Airport Improvement Program. Under this program, tha State signed e "grant assurances" document that raquires the State to uphold all the provisions of the grant. One such provision is that we not take or permit any action which would deprive the department of any of the rights and powers necessary to perform any or all of the terms, conditions, and assurances in the grant agreement. It goes on to say that the department will not transfar or dispose of our title or other interest in the property that has been committed under the grant. Further, we are party to contracts (leases) with aviation users on the lake that DNR hasn't authority (they don't have authority under statute to oparate an aviation facility, that right falls under DOT under AS 02 Aeronautics).

You mentioned that DOT has few choices to maintain safety but many requirements and liabilities. While this is true, we are trying to establish a parity and mutual raspect between lake users. I believe that there are options and altematives that may not give everyone, whether aviation or recreational, the same freedom of actions as once they enjoyed but sufficient freedom of use that everyone will continue to be able to use and enjoy the lake but be more cognizant of other categories of use. This is whare a lake use plan comes into effect. The attainment of success will be dependant on everyone working together and not at cross purposas.

I've checked with Central Region and was told that the letters were mailed December 31st. The public notices were distributed the same day. I've attached e copy of the draft plan. Thanks for taking the time to write me and expressing your views. See you at the maeting.

Mr. Stroman
I understand you are having a meeeting Jan. 8, 2008 ref. Willow Lake. One of the main issues for property owners is that you and Mr. Von scheben indicated in letters and E-mails that DOT, STILL maintains authority to TAKE property from land owners under SAFETY OF AVIATION. Beings this is the situation. I'm understanding that this threat exists on all properties on the Lake. The question will be asked if this threat pertains to any properties off the Leke and specifically which ones? Could you pleese answer this question?
Mr. Stroman, I still maintain a request that you cease all negotiations for a Lake Plan on Willow Lake. You are indicating to property owners that they have many choices and options to this Lake plan. If DOT Authority is maintained under SAFETY OF AVIATION as you end Mr Von Scheben have indicated the choices DOT has are few, and your REQUIREMENTS end LIABILITIES are many.
Mey I suggest, that DOT REVISIT THE POSSIBILITY of Authority of Willow Lake reverting back to DNR UNDER GENERAL USE as this type of Authority is much more flexible. It would cure many of the obvious problems. It definetely would be less expensive for DOT and property owners. Your leases CAN BE MAINTAINED under DNR. Check with them, and the Feds. WE DID.
You might step back end take a look as to whet is in the best interest, end best use of Willow Leke, for the Community of Willow, and the State NOW and in the FUTURE. I believe you will see that GENERAL USE is this BEST INTEREST of the public
Thank you for your time, end see you at the meeting.

P.S. I didn't receive notice from DOT for this meeting. Don't you have notice and time requirements to fulfill to even have meetings that WILL have impact on the Public? This is exactly, one of the problems on how DOT acquired Authority in 1964, the public process is suppose to heve TRANSPARENCY.

Subject: Re: Meeting

I cetainly did not receive a letter and neither did my son. Seems odd to see the people you did not bother to inform, Ron. I agree with Linda. Last time I read the statute a 30-day notice was required. Myrna Maynard

Market Radius Reports
Focus on Your Market...

Market radius reports capture all waste operations within a given market. They provide analysis of the major players by market share, and show historical trends of pricing, volume and capacity specific to that area. [Learn More...]

1. ELECTRONICS COMPANIES FORM RECYCLING JOINT VENTURE

Consumer electronic giants Panasonic, Sharp and Toshiba have formed a US-based collection and recycling venture called Electronic Manufacturers Recycling Management Company, LLC (MRM). The new firm will also serve other electronics manufactures and will roll out in Connecticut, North Carolina, Oregon, Texas and Washington late this year with plans to do likewise in other states as it expands its national presence. "Forming an independent company to manage collective electronic recycling programs is the best way to achieve economies of scale and efficiencies necessary to create a sustainable recycling system for used electronics," said David Thompson, the company's president...Read More »

2. SUPREME COURT DECLINES REVIEW OF SUPERFUND RULING AGAINST CANADIAN MINING GIANT

In a closely watched case, the US Supreme Court declined to intervene in a case involving Canadian mining giant Teck Cominco which has been held subject to U.S. Superfund law for polluting the Columbia River in the Pacific Northwest. Last year, a federal appeals court ruled that the company, based in Vancouver, British Columbia, would have to pay a share of an estimated $1 billion to clean up Lake Roosevelt, a 150-mile stretch of the upper Columbia River behind the Grand Coulee Dam. The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has charged that for nearly 90 years, the company's lead and zinc smelter complex 10 miles north of the US border leached heavy metals and slag into the river. Teck Cominco asked the justices to overturn the appeals court ruling, arguing that US Superfund law does not apply to a Canadian company discharging hazardous waste unless it had "arranged" for the contamination to end up in the United States...Read More »

3. COURT ORDERS FORMER WASTE MANAGEMENT EXEC TO PAY $4M FOR SECURITIES FRAUD

A federal district court judge ordered former Waste Management Inc. chief financial officer James E. Koenig to pay $4 million after a jury found that he committed 60 securities laws violations over a five-year period. The final judgment, entered on Dec. 21, requires Koenig to pay more than $4 million in disgorgement, prejudgment interest and civil penalties and permanently bars him from acting as an officer or director of a public company. The Securities and Exchange Commission alleged in its complaint that from 1992 to 1997, Koenig and others engaged in a "systematic scheme to falsify and misrepresent Waste Management's financial results with profits being overstated by $1.7 billion." Part of that scheme involved overstating the expected life of landfills and other assets so that current amortization and replacement costs would appear much lower. The jury found Koenig liable for securities fraud, falsifying company books and records, lying to auditors and aiding and abettingthe company's violations...Read More »

4. CASELLA EXPANDS MANAGEMENT ECHELONS

Casella Waste Systems announced an expansion of its management ranks with the appointment of Jim Bohlig as president of the company's renewables group and Paul Larkin joining the company as president and chief operating officer. Bohlig will also lead company efforts to expand into new businesses and expand existing opportunities, technologies, and relationships. Larkin, who hails from Office Depot where he held various operating positions, and most recently served as vice president for international strategy, will be responsible for leading all integrated operating divisions and functions within Casella...Read More »

5. LANDFILL DEVELOPERS SEEKING $25 MILLION FROM NORTH CAROLINA

Four waste management firms seeking to build landfills in North Carolina have asked for nearly $25 million in compensation for the state's decision last year to bar landfills in certain areas. As a caveat of the more stringent regulations, lawmakers allowed companies with pending landfill applications to recoup costs for affected projects. Waste Industries USA is seeking $13.6 million related to costs of developing its 1,000 acre Black bear landfill in Camden County. Waste Management and Riegel Ridge Partners filed separate requests totaling $8.6 million for a proposed landfill project in Columbus County. Alligator River Recycling is seeking $2.4 million to recoup expenses related to a its proposed construction debris landfill in Hyde County. Since August of 2006, North Carolina's legislature imposed a moratorium on any new landfill projects several of which were in process, especially in the eastern parts of the state. The fear which continues with the resent extension of the moratorium as well as more stringent siting restrictions stems from concern that the state might become a large importer of waste, particularly from the Northeast...Read More »

6. COVANTA DELAWARE VALLEY FACILITY GETS TO INCREASE DAILY VOLUME

Covanta Holding Corp. said that the Pennsylvania DEP approved a permit modification that allows the company's Delaware Valley waste-to-energy project to increase its daily receipt of solid waste and extend its operating hours. Under the approved changes, the Chester-based facility will increase its maximum daily volume of waste from 5,250 to 5,700 tons, but not increase in its maximum weekly volume...Read More »

Woke up one day in St. Clair County, Ill.

Per the Chamber-backed Madison County Record, forty-seven plaintiffs from around the country have been brought to the southern Illinois county to sue drugmaker Sanofi-Aventis over alleged complications of the antibiotic Ketek. Whether or not St. Clair and neighboring Madison County remain the worst of the worst from defendants' point of view, they certainly would still seem to be a target of opportunity for forum-shopping.

The article reports an examination of the evidence reported by the California Department of Developmental Services. The removal of thimerosal from childhood vaccines was accelerated between 1999 and 2001, and the data report the incidence of diagnosed autism by age and birth cohort from January 1995 through March 31, 2007. . .
